

Alannah Frankel

Okay so I'm trying to find things that are wrong with it that I can fix, so feel free to roast it.

Daniel

Okay so tap to get started. Let's go.

"what would you like to recycle today?" "You've chosen the plastic bottle. Please separate the bottle to the following parts" Got it. "play again answer the question on average how many hours of sleep every day"

Okay, so like, it gives you a trivia question to show which bit you should be putting.

Alannah Frankel

Yes, but it's not separating. It's not which bin it should be putting it in. It's just a trivia question, to get it to be fun to put it in the bin. So like there's four bins there, right? But they all lead to the same place. It's just for your own entertainment.

Daniel

That make sense.

Yeah. So i thought when i answered the question wrong, I was putting it in the wrong place.

Alannah Frankel

Ah okay so that wasn't clear...I'm trying to figure out a way to prevent that. people understand that like the only to the same area. It's just you having fun with it.

Daniel

*Goes through the rest of the process with ease*

Alannah Frankel

Pretend that you're doing a takeaway container that has food in it.

Daniel

Oh okay, so it's not clean and empty. It's disgusting..."Clean before putting this into the recycling bin. So I go to clean it out? Is there a clean station?"

Alannah Frankel

No there's not, is that annoying?

Daniel

I guess it's inconvenient but it's true because it's true...Like it needs to be cleaned up to be recycled right? But maybe if there was something to wash up stuff yeah that would be helpful.

Okay so what if I'm waiting in this massive queue to throw my rubbish away and it's finally my turn and then i get here and then I have to turn away and go wash it?

Alannah Frankel

The goal would be that it wouldn't be too long. Because like once you do it once, then you know, and then you don't have to wait. You just go. You just skip the queue, the trivia it's only for people who don't know what's recyclable.

Daniel

Just sending the wrong

Alannah Frankel

Okay, your last thing is you have to do a coffee cup.

Daniel

Oh can i click this? I didn't know that. Maybe add a click here for Help. *Reads info* Ah now I know.

Alannah Frankel

So what do you think?

Daniel

Maybe saying something that says, this machine is made for first-timers.

Because I thought everybody was going to do this.

Alannah Frankel

Hahaha no it's not forced.

Daniel

Hahah yeah you'd be like "I know it's seven hours of sleep, I have answered this for the past week."
haha

Alannah Frankel

No the goal would be that every single time you go there's a different question. And then with the donate one, you had the option to skip it, to make it quicker. So the money from recycling, you know, how you can get like five cents for a can, all the money that's generated for gathered from everyone, putting all of their recycling in, then gets donated at the end of the month. That's why there was like a winner.

Daniel

So what if you just skip it?

Alannah Frankel

Like if you don't want your money to go to charity?

Daniel

Yeah what if i want my 10 cents back?

Alannah Frankel

That's not your choice, if you want your 10 cents you have to take it to the dump and get it yourself
haha

Daniel

Oh okay yeah fair enough haha

Alannah Frankel

Anything else?

Daniel

Yeah, maybe this is something that says Like, click here. For more information on the question mark. Yeah. And something on the home screen that says Like, need help recycling, like choose me if you need help recycling.

*Clicks through coffee cup* So if the coffee cup isn't recyclable then why does it go in the red bin? If there's only 4 bins.

Alannah Frankel

This half, only those pieces can go in those pieces have to go in the red bin. When you go back after you put it in the red bin, and then you can now start, you'd have to go like this. Like imagine that you go back, you get it, put it in the thing, and then the cup goes in there. Does that make sense?

Daniel

No

Alannah Frankel

Okay There's four bins, right? Yeah, they all lead to the same place. Yes. And there's one red one that leads to the landfill.

Daniel

So there's five bins.

Alannah Frankel

Well technically only 2

Daniel

But there's five holes?. Okay, but four of them all go to the same place.

Alannah Frankel

Yes. It's just to make it so you can play the game. Because if almost the same place then you should be throwing trash and recycling

Daniel

Yeah that's why i was confused

Alannah Frankel

What didn't you tell me that? hahaha

Daniel

Well you kept saying theres four, but theres actually five.

Alannah Frankel

Okay, yes, there's five. I met four as in like four choices for you to put your recycling.

Daniel

Okay. But they're all the same, but the other one is like, just there. That's confusing with all the colors

Alannah Frankel

Do you think if they were different colors it would help?

Daniel

Well, what would you choose because it can only be yellow and red. Then you just have 4 yellow ones. Or you could do symbols like shapes like a circle and triangle

Alannah Frankel

And there's just a red one. Would that make more sense?

Daniel

yeah because then it's not all colours, theres shapes and then there's a red one and then people know that it doesn't matter which one they put it in because the whole thing is yellow. Because for me I was like is the red one like plastics and then the blue one is cardboard and then like, the glass.
